Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 26 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with brighter spells increasing into the afternoon.

Today:
A cloudy start to the weekend, particularly across eastern areas where a few isolated light drizzly showers may appear. However most staying dry with sunny spells increasing from the west into the afternoon. Northerly breezes. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry with occasional clear spells. However tending to be cloudier across eastern areas. Winds light allowing temperatures to fall into single figures for some. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Sunday:
A fine and dry day across all areas with temperatures lifting a little from Saturday in the plentiful sunshine and light breezes. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly fair, dry and bright with light winds. However low cloud and patchy light rain may occasionally feeding across northern coastal fringes.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.